

VILLA CAPTURES GOMEZ PALACIO

Insurgents Now Within Three Miles of Torreon.

BOTH SIDES LOSE HEAVILY

Rebel Success Follows Four Days of Desperate Fighting, Including Three Assaults Upon the Federal Position. Wounded Suffer Terribly on Account of the Scarcity of Water.

Gomez Palacio, Mex., March 28.—Four days of fighting, including three desperate assaults by the rebels, were crowned when General Francisco Villa moved into the city and established his headquarters on the side of the town looking toward Torreon and within three miles of that great goal of the campaign.

The final and deciding assault was preceded by a bombardment, after which the infantry and cavalry dashed into the streets.

Rifles, machetes, pistols and hand grenades were used in a hundred different encounters in the narrow thoroughfares. The grenades, of home manufacture, were lighted with the cigarettes which are an unofficial part of the equipment of every Mexican soldier.

General Villa does not yet know his own loss, except that it is heavy. The wounded suffered terribly from thirst and many died from the lack of water and surgical attention.

The dead of both sides were mingled in the streets or found huddled under the piles of earth which had once been adobe houses or corals, wrecked by rebel shells. Veterans say that no more serious battle ever was fought in Mexico.

General Villa did not stop to estimate his losses, but with characteristic energy began preparations to move on Torreon. He expects to cooperate with 4,000 men under General Herrera, who is under orders to attack the town from the east.

The newspaper correspondents entered the city with Villa. Everywhere rebel soldiers were rescuing the injured and taking them to the railroad. There were stretchers, but not nearly enough of them, but a stout pole with a blanket suspended hammock fashion sufficed.

Those with flesh wounds disdained to desert and many a soldier, limping from a wound in the leg, or with one arm supported in a bloodstained bandage, was seen among the stretcher bearers.

CONDITION IS NOT CRITICAL

Frederick Weyerhaeuser Suffering From Severe Cold.

Pasadena, Cal., March 28.—That the condition of Frederick Weyerhaeuser, multimillionaire lumber king of St. Paul, who is suffering from a severe cold at his winter home here, is not to be regarded as critical, was the statement issued by his physician, Dr. Walter E. Nichols.

Mr. Weyerhaeuser, who is seventy-nine years old, has been suffering from a cold for several days.

Dr. Nichols, when asked if the millionaire's condition is dangerous, said: "No, I don't think I would say so."

WHITE HOUSE PLEA FAILS

Postmistress of Courtland, Va., Is Ousted.

Washington, March 28.—Miss Mattie R. Tyler, granddaughter of former President Tyler, who appealed to White House officials to continue her as postmistress at Courtland, Va., will be succeeded by B. A. Williams, it was announced by First Assistant Postmaster General Roper.

Failure on the part of Miss Tyler to take the recently ordered civil service examination, rather than alleged efforts of a "clique of Virginia politicians," was the department's explanation of its action.

PRISON FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Two Plead Guilty to Shoplifting in Kansas City.

Kansas City, March 28.—Margaret Duke, twenty years old, and Mrs. Violet Geffene, twenty-two years old, pleaded guilty to shoplifting in the criminal court following a raid on Mrs. Geffene's apartments, where the police found hats, gowns and furs valued at $4,000 that had been stolen from Kansas City department stores. Miss Duke was sentenced to three and one-half years in the penitentiary, while Mrs. Geffene received a sentence of four years.

ADOPTS RULE TO CURTAIL DEBATE

House Will Devote Twenty Hours to Repeal Bill.

FINAL VOTE NEXT TUESDAY

Administration Supporters Consider the Crucial Point Passed and Confidently Predict the Measure to Repeal Free Tolls for American Ships Through the Panama Canal Will Pass.

Washington, March 28.—Woodrow Wilson met the unbeaten leaders of the house Democracy on their own field and defeated them. Whatever the merits of the Panama canal tolls exemption, over the repeal of which these men fought, the battle was a personal one.

The merits of the case did not enter into it. A vote against the adoption of the rule to limit debate to twenty hours—which was the immediate point of combat—was made clearly a vote primarily against the leadership of the president and in favor of Speaker Champ Clark and Representative Oscar W. Underwood. They made the hardest fight they could and lost.

President Wilson's triumph is considered most notable by the rank and file of all parties because of the unusual alignment of forces within the Democratic ranks. Two men who had sought with him the presidential nomination at the hands of the party—one the speaker of the house and the other the floor leader of the dominant party—were arrayed against him openly and actively.

The speaker, after a truce had been declared, made his position known for the first time by issuing a better statement against the rule, the adoption of which was the insistent wish of the president.

Vote to Adopt Rule 200 to 172.

Mr. Underwood broke for the first time with the majority which has followed him confidently in the past and he failed. The personality which induced the house to idolize him when he attacked Bryan could not avail. By a vote of 207 to 176 the house ordered the previous question on the rule and wrote a date in political history which will be heard of often in the future. The rule itself was adopted, 200 to 172.

Nothing to compare with the scene had occurred in the house since the famous Cannon rules fight four years ago. In vain Representative Underwood took the floor of the house and urged his colleagues to vote against the rule. The rank and file Democrats, after listening to three hours of passionate argument, swung into the president's column, 195 of them voting to prevent the amendment of the special rule, while only 55 followed the leaders in joining with the minority in opposition.

Administration supporters consider the crucial point passed and jubilant to predict the passage of the repeal bill itself on Tuesday or Wednesday by a majority of more than 100. Several of the twenty hours allowed for debate under the rule had been consumed when the house adjourned and with the speechmaking continuing without interruption it was thought the final vote can be reached late Tuesday afternoon.

FIERCE FIGHT ON TRAIN

Turkish and Armenian Laborers Use Knives in Battle.

Minot, N. D., March 28.—Three Turkish laborers, members of a party of railroad workmen, being shipped to Montana, were slashed seriously in a combat with a party of Armenians aboard a Great Northern train near here.

The Armenians and Turks became thrifty simultaneously and fought with knives for the possession of the car's water tank. The three Turks may die.

Washington, March 28.—Consideration of committee amendments to the army appropriation bill as it passed the house began in the senate. The amendments would add approximately $7,000,000 to the total appropriations, most of the proposed increase being for the purchase of field guns and ammunition for the militia.

GRONNA IS COMING HOME

Will Begin His Campaign for Another Term the Last of April.

Lakota, N. D., March 28.—United States Senator A. J. Gronna will return to the state April 25 to begin his preliminary campaign for nomination as the senatorial candidate of the Republicans of North Dakota.

The senator has made such an announcement at Washington and it is expected his formal statement announcing his candidacy for re-election will be made soon.

Andrew Miller, who opposes Gronna for the nomination, has begun an active campaign in the state.

COUNSEL URGES THAW'S RELEASE

Files Final Brief in Federal District Court.

Concord, N. H., March 28.—The final brief on behalf of Harry K. Thaw, on his petition for a writ of habeas corpus and for admission to bail pending a decision on the matter of extradition, was filed in the United States district court by counsel.

The document lays stress on the claim that the statute under which Thaw originally was committed to the asylum at Matteawan, N. Y., is unconstitutional and therefore it was not a crime for him to escape from custody; that an insane person cannot commit a crime and accordingly cannot be extradited on a charge of committing a crime; that Thaw's sanity or insanity must be decided before it can be determined that there is jurisdiction to extradite him and that he is not a fugitive from justice within the meaning of the federal Constitution.

As to bail counsel maintains that bail in a misdemeanor case is a matter of right. The brief concludes: "The purpose of the state of New York being to return Thaw to Matteawan it is making a misuse of the extradition laws to accomplish its end. Thaw should be discharged."

VAUDEVILLE MAGNATE DEAD

Benjamin F. Keith Originated the "Continuous Performance."

Boston, March 28.—A native of Hillsboro, N. H., Benjamin Franklin Keith, the vaudeville magnate, died at Palm Beach, Fla. He had lived in New England all his life. Mr. Keith originated the "continuous performance" in vaudeville in this city in 1885. He began his career as proprietor of a small museum here two years earlier.

Mr. Keith was sixty-five years of age and apparently had been in the best of health. Mr. Keith and his son Paul had been discussing business matters in their apartments and the latter, stepping outside for a moment, returned to find his father dead.

Wagner's Misfortune.

"Your letters are sad," the musician Liszt once wrote to his friend Wagner. "and your life is sadder still. You want to go out in the wide world, live, enjoy, revel. Ah, how cordially I wish you could! But your greatness constitutes also your misery. The two are inseparably united and must ever annoy and torture you."

JUDGE'S ACCUSER INDICTED

Washington, March 28.—Wade H. Cooper, a local bank president, who recently lodged charges at the White House against Justice Daniel T. Wright of the District supreme court, was indicted on a charge of criminal libel.

The charges against Justice Wright were referred to the house judiciary committee and dismissed.

NEW OBJECTION TO TRUST BILLS

"Little Merchants" Want Retail Prices Fixed by Law.

IDEA OPPOSED BY FRAMERS

Canal Tolls as an Issue For Parties to Go Before the Voters Is Discussed in Capitol—La Follette Says That Public Opinion Would Defeat Administration if Given Time.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 28.—[Special.]—There has been an interesting development in the hearings on the various trust bills brought forward by a class that are styled "little merchants." These men want legislation regulating trusts to contain a provision giving manufacturers the right to fix the retail prices of goods.

They claim that mail order houses and occasional big department stores in the cities and other big concerns, either for advertising purposes or because of the ability they possess in handling goods, can oftentimes undersell a staple article, leaving the "little merchant" with a stock of goods which prove a dead loss.

The idea does not meet with favor among the men who are framing the trust legislation, as they regard authority for manufacturers to fix a price as stifling competition. This matter was fought out in the courts not long ago on the question of patent rights and legislation has been asked to give patent right men authority to fix the price on the articles which are sold with their inventions.

The Everlasting "If" in Politics. "If the Republicans would make a party question of the repeal of the Panama canal tolls they would have a great issue upon which to go before the country."

That statement has been made several times by politicians who think they understand what is the temper of the American people. "If the vote upon the repeal of the canal tolls could be delayed for three months public opinion in this country would force the defeat of the bill," is a statement made by Senator La Follette. Evidently the Wisconsin senator believes that the American people will be against repealing the free tolls provision, and the same is true of those who wish that the Republican party would get together on that line.

But the Republican party will not get together, and such eminent Republican senators as Root of New York, Lodge of Massachusetts, Burton of Ohio and Brandegee of Connecticut, assisted by several others, will help the president get his repeal through the senate and thereby eliminate canal tolls as a party issue.

Hair and the Race Issue. John Sharp Williams was on his favorite topic of racial differences and, talking directly to Senator Gallinger, said, "The senator from New Hampshire may stand here and tell me until he is gray headed that he believes in racial equality, but I know that he does not."

As the New Hampshire senator has no hair which could get gray, there was considerable laughter.

Then Gallinger replied, "I certainly do believe in racial equality as before law and the constitution, and the senator from Mississippi will become bald headed before he persuades me to the contrary."

As Williams' top hair is of the moth eaten kind, thin and straggling, the senator enjoyed Gallinger's "come back" very much. The hair question is rather a dangerous one to play with.

Wanted Fan of Play.

Jerry Donovan of Connecticut expressed indignation in the house because the division of time on the river and harbor bill was between Sparkman of Florida, the chairman, and Humphrey of Washington, the ranking Republican member of the committee, and both were in favor of the bill. Jerry insisted that no time was left for the opposition.

In constructing the river and harbor bill it is generally fixed so that every man with a river or harbor gets a part of the appropriation and favors the bill. Donovan was one of the few men who was opposed to the bill.

Martine Suspicious.

Senator Martine of New Jersey is getting suspicious of the people around Washington. Some of them tickled him on a street car the other day and asked him to vote for a certain bill. "I don't know what these fellows mean by asking me to support bills, but I told them I was unqualifiedly opposed to their measure," explained the New Jersey senator, who is a man that supports his convictions earnestly.

Kentuckians Can't Help It.

After watching Kentuckians of different parties we can understand why there are feuds in that state. Now, when Ollie James makes a speech he is just as sure to be antagonized by Joe Bristow as the senate remains in session. And when Bristow has been talking for a time he is almost sure to be jumped on by James. These two men are Kentuckians, although Bristow is now a resident of Kansas, but the feud is between them because they belong to different schools of politics and that is the real dividing line.

NEW EVIDENCE IS GROUND FOR APPEAL

Attorneys for Leo Frank Will Ask New Trial.

Atlanta, Ga., March 28.—Notice that an extraordinary motion for a new trial for Leo M. Frank, former pencil factory superintendent, sentenced to die for the murder of Mary Phagan, a factory employe, will be filed April 16, the day previous to that set for Frank's execution, was served on the supreme court here. The motion automatically will stay the hanging, but should it be denounced, an appeal, it is expected, will be taken to the Georgia supreme court, which already has confirmed Superior Judge Roan in denying a new trial on previously submitted evidence.

The notice was accompanied by a copy of the motion, which alleged new evidence favorable to Frank has been discovered since his conviction.

Effort also is made to prove that the notes found beside the girl's body were written in the basement of the pencil factory and not in Frank's office, as James Conley, negro sweeper, and chief witness against Frank, testified.

Commons Whip Says Task Will Be Carried Out.

CABINET APPEARS DIVIDED

Premier Asquith Seems Reluctant to Remove Colonel Seely as Secretary of War—Percy H. Hingworth Declares That if Every Officer in the Army Resigns the Government Will Remain Firm.

London, March 28.—The political situation appears to be unchanged. Another cabinet council will be held and no official declaration as to what course Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of the general staff, and General Sir John Spencer Ewart, adjutant general of the forces, will take with regard to their resignations is expected until after that meeting.

Sir Edward Carson, the Unionist leader in Ulster, has left Craigavon for London.

The continuation of the crisis is attributed to Premier Asquith's reluctance to remove Colonel Seely as secretary of war. Colonel Seely's relinquishment of his portfolio doubtless would satisfy Generals French and Ewart and Premier Asquith's objection to having him do so seems to indicate internal dissensions in the cabinet itself.

The Weekly Nation, which may be regarded as the organ of Chancellor David Lloyd-George's section of the cabinet, in its issue attacks Colonel Seely with great bitterness.

The Nation suggests that a man of harder muscles—like John Burns, president of the local government board, or Walter Runciman, president of the board of agriculture—is needed to cope with the present situation in the army.

Percy Holden Hingworth, chief Liberal whip in the house of commons, in a speech at Blackburn, said that if every officer in the army resigned the government would not flinch a hair's breadth from the task it had in hand.

According to general report General Gough has been asked to surrender the written guarantee given by Colonel Seely that army officers would not be ordered to fight the Ulster Unionists.

FORMER OFFICIAL ARRESTED

Accused of Embezzlement by State of Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, March 28.—William L. Essman, former state superintendent of public property, was arrested in Indiana, where he was traveling for a Chicago commercial house, charged with the embezzlement of $7,000 worth of state property. He was arrested by the understood approval of Governor McGovern, whose campaign manager he was in two election battles.

The arrest follows the discovery that a secret report was being prepared for Governor McGovern by two officials of the state banking department, which had disclosed an alleged misappropriation of between $5,000 and $7,000 of state property. The examination is said to have shown that $7,000 more of state property was not accounted for.

It was determined that the state should prosecute, although the amount of the alleged shortage was covered under Essman's bonds and by the value of personal property turned over when the alleged shortage was discovered.

DEATH RATE IS VERY HIGH

Health Conditions Among the Indians Deplorable.

Washington, March 28.—Health conditions among the Indians are described as deplorable by Indian Commissioner Sells in his annual report. Approximately 25,000 Indians are suffering from tuberculosis, he says, while available hospital facilities for all will not exceed 300 beds.

During the last fiscal year 1,906 Indians died from tuberculosis. The Indian death rate was 32.25 per 1,000, against 16 per 1,000 for the entire registered area of the United States. More than 60,000 cases of trachoma exist among the government wards. The report says 8,000 Indian families are without homes.

Rose Lutiger Gannon
"Gannon charms! Mrs. Gannon has a rich contralto voice with a wealth of color, always smooth and even and under finest control. Mrs. Rose Lutiger Gannon sings at Elk's hall, Monday evening, March 30.

"Mutt and Jeff"

Little did Bud Fisher think, when he conceived the idea of the "Mutt and Jeff" cartoon series that it would prove to be the most remarkable success a newspaper artist ever achieved, nor that his effort would be the nucleus of a play that will live forever as the greatest laugh-producer for young and old the stage has ever known. Of course, it was Fisher's good fortune to have had a big daily newspaper adopt his daily comedy picture, to which fact is due a great part of the success. The fact that Gus Hill produced and managed the play was also good fortune for "Bud" as there is no more successful showman in the world than Gus Hill. It can be truthfully said that he never had a failure. That "Mutt and Jeff," in its third season, bids fair to be more profitable than either of the previous two is due to the personal attention Mr. Hill gives to every attraction that bears his name. He never allows anything to become shop worn or moth-eaten. Every year a show is sent out to tour the country it is a new one in everything but the title. No matter how many seasons the old title may be used, the material in the entertainment is not permitted to retrograde.

"In Panama," the vehicle used for laughing purposes this season, is an innovation in play writing. "Mutt and Jeff" will be seen at the Brainerd opera house Sunday night, March 29.

EXTENSION OF ELECTRIC LINE

Minnesota Central Directors Decide to Build to Cuyuna and beyond

EXTRA BRAINERD SERVICE

Big Capital Ready to Send Traffic
Engineers to the New Range

Duluth, March 28—(Special to the Brainerd Dispatch)—At a meeting this morning of the directors of the Minnesota Central Railway company at the Alworth building, it was decided to add about seven miles of track to the original plans of the Cuyuna range electric railway so as to provide for a branch line from Onton-Crosby to Cuyuna and beyond that village to the rich manganese district including Manganese and Iron Mountain towns. This will make the total length of the line from Duluth to Cuyuna about 45 miles, depending upon whether the line is run over the north range or the south range in connecting up the city of Brainerd with the range towns.

Joseph Ferrier, vice president and treasurer of the company, who is an experienced railroad contractor, and who will have charge of the construction of the new road, was authorized to put his engineering staff to work as soon as the frost is out of the ground, which will probably be in about two weeks.

George Reid, president of the company, reported to the directors that the directors of big capital in Chicago, New York and Boston, which make a business of financing electric lines, are ready to send their traffic engineers to the Cuyuna range as soon as the engineering work has been completed and profile maps of the route are ready. He said that while the company, under its franchise from Brainerd, must construct street railway in that city not less than five miles in length, that these five miles would really be part of a continuous interurban system and at the only added cost, so far as Brainerd is concerned, would be the operation of extra cars within the city limits so as to give satisfactory service to the city. Mr. Reid estimated the population to be served by the road to be not less than 50,000 people within a five years' period, including the population of Brainerd, which he believed would be at least 15,000 people in five years.

In giving figures of traffic on Minnesota electric lines Mr. Reid said the Dan Patch line, built for 52 miles from Minneapolis toward Rochester, was doing a business of $13,000 a month, or $250 per mile per month and was considered a great success, whereas the Mesaba range road was doing a business of $21,000 per month, equivalent to about $600 per mile, a traffic more than twice as heavy as the Dan Patch line. He predicted that the Cuyuna range line would prove as profitable as the Mesaba range road.

WILL THEY DRESS LIKE MEN?

Latest Paris Idea is for Women to Wear a Divided Skirt—Some of the Styles Shown

Will women ever dress like men? This has been a much agitated question which time must solve but the new vogues decree that women must dress much like men.

The latest Paris idea is for women to wear a divided skirt which resembles men's trousers and it is having "its" following. Coming nearer home "Michael's" are exhibiting in their windows the new petticoats for women which are made much like a pair of trousers. They are a little fuller, to be sure, but they are gathered neatly at the ankle and makes unnecessary the wearing of silk hose by the woman whose skirt is slit.

These new garments were placed in the window this afternoon and will doubtless attract much attention for, though women may adopt all that is shown or not they always want to see any new styles in dress and this is distinctly new and quite different from any former style.

HOOP-LA! THE CEREMONIAL!

The Eats, Vo-de-veel Show, Field
Glasses Needed to Identify Used-up Candidates

Zuhrah Temple, Oasis of Minneapolis, a component part of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, operated on a large field of candidates at the Armory in Minneapolis last night and some of the lambs led to the slaughter were a number of novices from Brainerd. The ceremonials took place on the twenty-ninth day of the 4th month (Arabic) Ray-beah 't-Tanee, Hijrah 1332, which in plain English is March 27, and was the first ceremonial of the current year.

It was such a ceremonial, such a row, such a business, such a noise! There were oodles and oodles of joy for every one of Zuhrah's 2452 Nobles and not one gloom was allowed past the outer guard. It was necessary to bring field glasses. Time was not taken out to cart away the used-up candidates; there was no lull. It was necessary to identify the departed—or rather departing—by his birthmarks and at a distance. Fathers and sons, as well as twin brothers of the nobility, who did not wish to be separated from one another wore clothes to match or similarly colored carnations in their back hair. The worthy Shriners regaled themselves with this sumptuous banquet:

Sweet comfits with Shem-el-Nessim (scent of Araby); choicest cordials al Sheikh; rich manchetts and amber figs; melons of the Sahara sands; delicate cakes baked in silver ovens; fruits from the Tigris; sweetbreads in almonds; saffron soups, the balm of Mecca; Egyptian lamb a la creme; hookahs to smoke.

The novices, for whom nothing was too little or too poorly served, were slipped something like this: puree de venomous serpents; rhinoceros' horns, fresh last May; oasis lobsters (the candidate who ate one was a cannibal); fried Nile water, skinned and sifted; sand fritters and mashed Potentaters, al hazer; camel's milk shake and camel's hump steak; desert clams; and pickled bees' knees, with pans removed; boiled thistles and hop Scotch; flim-flaum cigars.

Of Brainerd, W. A. M. Johnstone was a member of the glad-hand committee welcoming guests. At this writing, 3 P. M., nothing has been heard of the fate of the valiant band of Brainerd novitiates who tremblingly traversed the hot sands and the hot waves and partook of the hot banquet. (Allah favor and preserve them all.)

RELIGIOUS CENSUS

Entire City to be Canvassed on Monday by Ministerial Association

On Monday the Ministerial association of the city will with the aid of Assistant Evangelist Clarence J. Martin, undertake a religious canvass of the entire city.

The purpose is to determine the denominational standing of every man, woman and child so far as each one is willing to state his preference. The cards with these facts will be given to the minister of the church that is designated.

If the census takers do their work well these statistics will be of considerable value to all the churches. There are many people who in moving from city to city feel a timidity in making the first approach to church where all to them are strangers. When the church first comes to such a home the ice is broken and the next step of attendance is easier.

The church is interested in all people whoever they may be. It is anxious to carry out its practical teaching in visiting the stranger "within the gates." But first it must know where the stranger is.

Another purpose of the canvass is to announce the coming evangelistic movement. An earnest invitation to bear these meetings in mind and to attend them will be given by the takers of the census.

The various ministers under the direction of Mr. Martin are doing all in their power to prepare the way of the coming evangelists. It is their desire that the religious life of the community may be quickened and stimulated. They believe that a religious revival will be a revival of all that is good and wholesome in public and private life. They seek the cooperation of every public spirited man of Brainerd.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Jones & Laughlin Reported to Have Taken Over New Interests on the Cuyuna Range

NEW PIT MINE IN SEC. 10-46-29

Electrical Equipment in the Wilcox
Mine at Woodrow—Work at Pennington Pit

Reports are heard on the Cuyuna range that the Jones & Laughlin interests have taken over a forty owned by George H. Crosby in the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 18, township 46, range 29 and a forty owned by P. H. Nelson, Carlson and others in the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 17, township 46, range 29. The other important report was that the tonnage was to go to the Northern Pacific railway.

The Hale-Bradley Exploration Co. of Deerwood, has placed a drill in the east half of the southeast quarter of section 9, township 46, range 28 for George H. Wyman of Anoka. Cole & McDonald, of Deerwood, are operating a drill in section 1, township 46, range 29 on the Chisholm, Williams and Magoffin lands north of Crosby. The Northern Pacific railway will get this tonnage. M. Hobart, of Minneapolis, owning a tract of 4,000 acres of land in Aitkin county, has a drill working in the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 30, township 51, range 26.

The Pennington pit mine is working steam shovels and making preparations for large shipments this year. An engine and boiler house is being built in the pit. Eventually, many believe, a shaft may also be put down and the ore trammed up the incline to the surface. This may be the last season of purely pit mining. John A. Oberg, Donald Quinn and other officers and stockholders of the Gopher Iron Co., of St. Paul, which owns an interest in the Pennington, were on the range this week, examining their various properties.

Near the Pennington is the pit mine property of the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore Co., situated in section 10, township 46, range 29. Drills were started about a year ago and a fine body of high grade ore has been shown up said to be an immense basin over 1,500 feet long, 500 feet wide and bottomed in good ore. One hole down 525 feet is bottomed in good ore. The surface being shallow and the ground of a light nature, similar to the Pennington, the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore Co. is assured of having a most desirable pit mining proposition. Holes 42 and 43 are now being drilled and good reports are received.

The Cuyuna Iron & Land Co. has filed a release of option to Martha Fellerman, the land being in the southwest quarter of section 12, township 47, range 28. William Hoescheid and others have filed a release and quitclaim of option to Carl Madsen, the property covering the north half of the northeast quarter, the north quarter of the south half of the northeast quarter of section 11, township 44, range 30. Ore carrying contracts entered into by and between the Iron Mountain Mining Co., Gorham-Garbutt Co. and the Soo line have been placed on record in Crow Wing county. This covers ore in the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 33, township 47, range 29. The ore will be car-

"Michael Arnold and Dr. Lynn"

This two-reel feature opens with Michael marrying against his father's wishes and is disinherited. He goes back to his old trade of violin maker. In the story Dr. Lynn is morally weak and also shifts the blame of a crime on Michael. Later Michael has more trouble with Dr. Lynn over misrepresented attentions to his wife.
Dr. Lynn was also attending Michael's father during an illness.
The father dies and Dr. Lynn clearly points it out as a crime of Michael. Michael is convicted and sent to prison for life. Ten years pass and we see Dr. Lynn suffering from his crime and living alone. In the end Michael proves his innocence. This is a clean, powerful drama which the GRAND has secured for its special Saturday night program.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

ried at 60 cents a ton. The railway company agrees to put in spurs and lead tracks.

McCullough & Cheney, of Minneapolis, have the contract building the Northern Pacific extension from the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine to the Duluth-Brainerd mine. They recently were awarded the contract to build the bridge fill in Northeast Brainerd. The Soo line is reported as intending to do considerable double tracking on the range to take care of its immense tonnage. The Northern Pacific, it is reported, may extend to Riverton and then, no doubt, the road will be run on south to Loerch, surveys for this having been made some time ago.

The Wilcox mine at Woodrow, six miles east of Brainerd, is working a large crew and the shaft, a three-compartment timber shaft, is now down about 16 feet. Additional men were put to work on Wednesday. Considerable electrical equipment will be put in, the current being supplied by the Cuyuna Range Power Co. R. W. Seelye states this is contemplated: electric turbines, 4 stage, two pumps of 1,000 gallons capacity each, also two auxiliary steam pumps. The compressor is to be of 1,000 cubic feet capacity, electric drive, Ingersoll-Rand to supply hammer type drills. The hoist is to be steam-driven, 7 tons capacity. There are to be two skips. There are to be steam boilers of 300 horsepower, return tubular type, to drive the hoist and auxiliary steam pumps. Undergird the usual mine cars and stope cars, etc., will be used. Mr. Seelye's idea is to use considerable electric power for pumping and air compressor and have this backed by a reserve steam supply, thus obviating any possible shutdowns.

Chester D. Tripp of the Rogers, Brown Ore Co. and C. A. Stillman, of the Ironore Iron Co., were on the range this week, returning to Chicago Thursday. Mr. Tripp said the ore market was still unsettled. The end of this month will probably bring stability to the market. All the Rogers, Brown Ore Co. properties were being worked in a most capable manner. The Armour No. 2 at Crosby and Ironton and the Kennedy at Cuyuna are getting out large stockpiles.

The Barrows mine has now over 20,000 tons in stockpile. The town will come in for considerable growth during the shipping season. The Adams mine at Oreland has about 2,000 tons in stockpile. At the Brainerd-Cuyuna mine in the city limits of Brainerd work is being carried on at the second shaft. The Cuyuna-Sultana Iron Co. is proving up a good body of ore near the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine. The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs has about 10,000 tons of ore in stockpile. A 2500 gallon pump is being installed at the 205 foot level. Ore is being hoisted from three levels at the Cuyuna-Duluth mine at Ironton. A large stockpile is being accumulated. The Iron Mountain mine is expected to ship heavily this season.

FOR THE GRIP

Peruna Is Sometimes Used With Good Results

Mrs. Jane Gift.

Many people take it after they have had the grip. Their convalescence is slow. They have suffered along for a month or two, without any signs of complete recovery. Then they resort to Peruna as a tonic, with splendid results.

Mrs. Jane Gift, R. F. D. 1, Athens, Ohio, whose portrait appears above, writes: "I think I would have been dead long ago if it had not been for Peruna. Six years ago I had la grippe very bad. The doctor came to see me every day, but I gradually grew worse. I told my husband I thought I would surely die if I did not get relief soon. "One day I picked up the newspaper and accidentally found a testimonial of a woman who had been cured of grip by Peruna. I told my husband I wanted to try it. He went directly to the drug store and got a bottle of Peruna. I could see the improvement in a very short time and was soon able to do my work. I continued using it until I was entirely cured."

Mr. Victor Patneade, 328 Madison St., Topeka, Kas., writes: "Twelve years ago I had a severe attack of la grippe and never really recovered my health and strength, but grew weaker every year, until I was unable to work. "Two years ago I began using Peruna and it built up my strength so that in a couple of months I was able to go to work again. This winter I had another attack of la grippe, but Peruna soon drove it out of my system. My wife and I consider it a household remedy."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.
